HALLOWEEN

This year students were greatly outnumbered by faculty in celebrating the Halloween holiday at WHS. Many of the students who did dress in costume did it not for the spirit of Halloween but for extra credit points in class.

As we reflect upon what could be called our last year as a "kid" celebrating a child's holiday, may we take a lesson from the faculty and remember that the child inside us should never grow old.

WE ARE THE REBELS

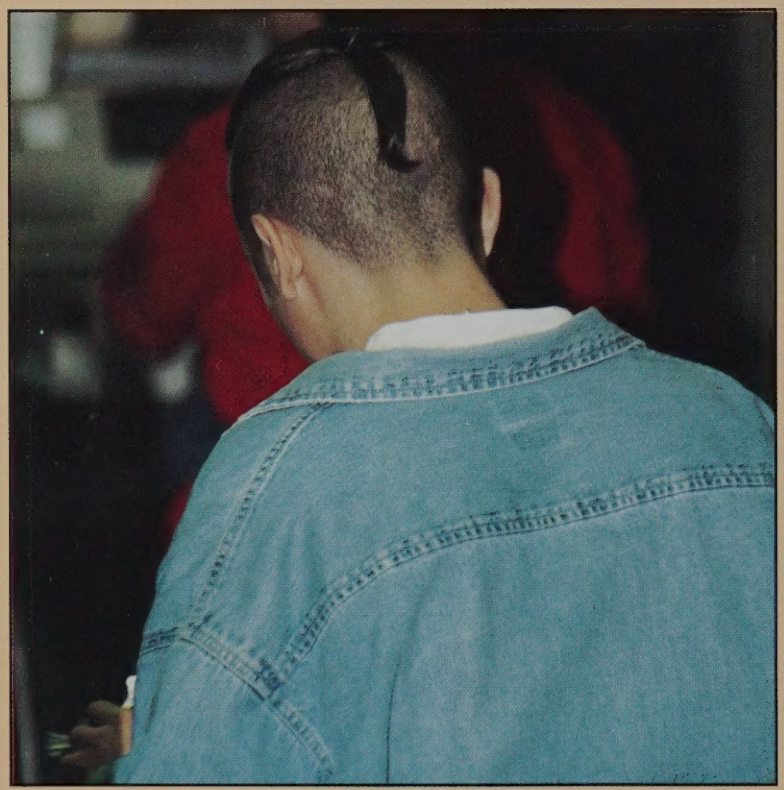
Sometimes we have a lot to cheer about - Laura, Kelley, Jen, and Amy are rockin' in the stands.

As students of Walpole High School our interests are as diverse as the activities we are involved in. We are studying to prepare for college and working to become active and productive members of the outside world.

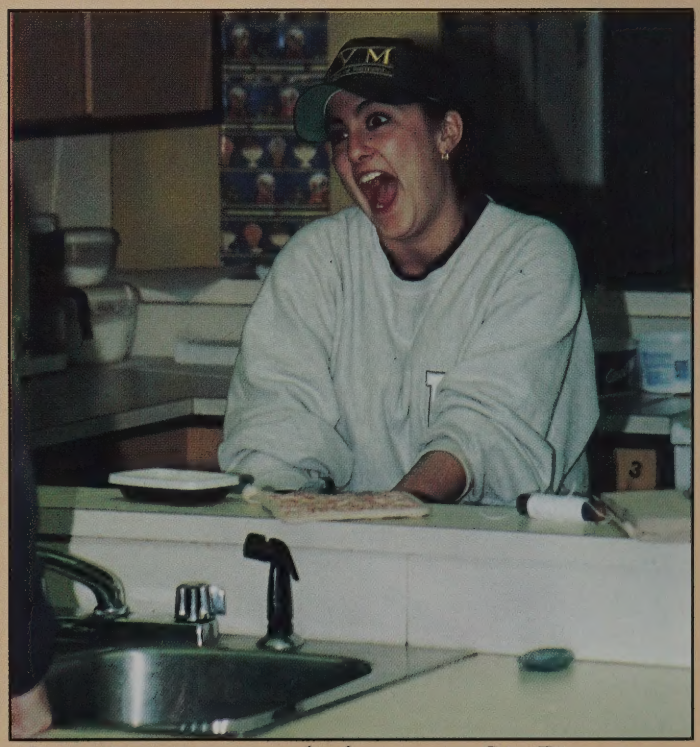
We are athletes, musicians, actors and actresses, carpenters, journalists/broadcasters, writers, computer whizzes, artists, and chefs. It is within these mediums and professions, among others, that we strive for excellence.

As well, we are young adults. We are maturing and learning to be independent. We are learning how to be adults in a difficult and everchanging world. Whether we know it or not, we're learning how to be good moms and dads when the time comes. We are enthusiastic about life, whether we are being studious or whether we are partying. All the while, we're learning about success and failure. As students and young adults most important, we are preparing ourselves for the exciting world of college and beyond.

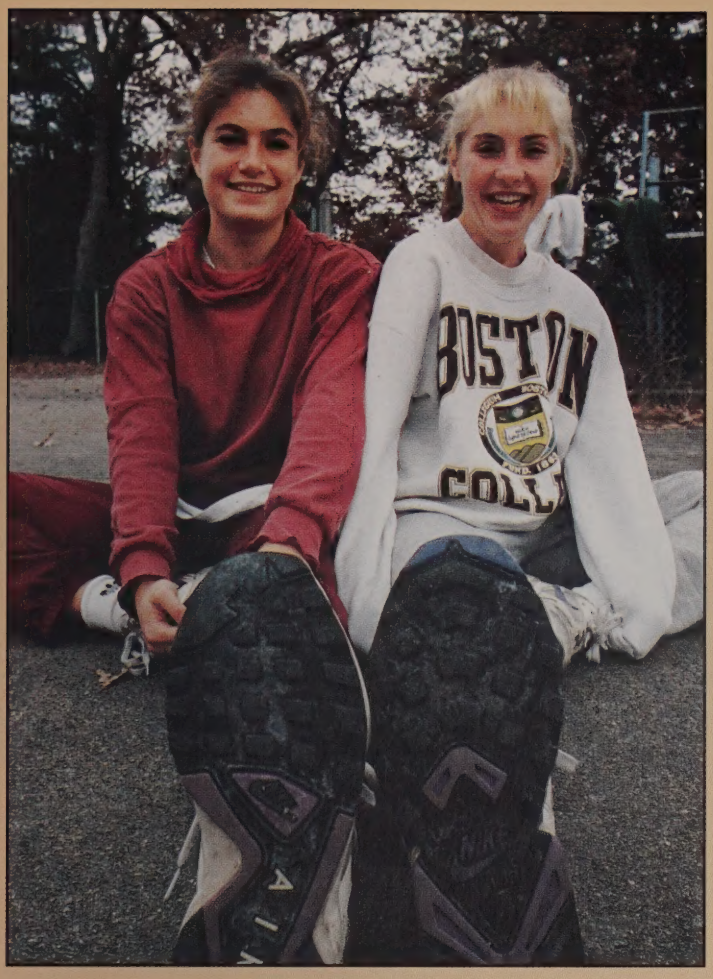
We are all individuals with differing ideals, thoughts, feelings, and emotions. Though different, we all share one characteristic. We are and always will be Rebels.



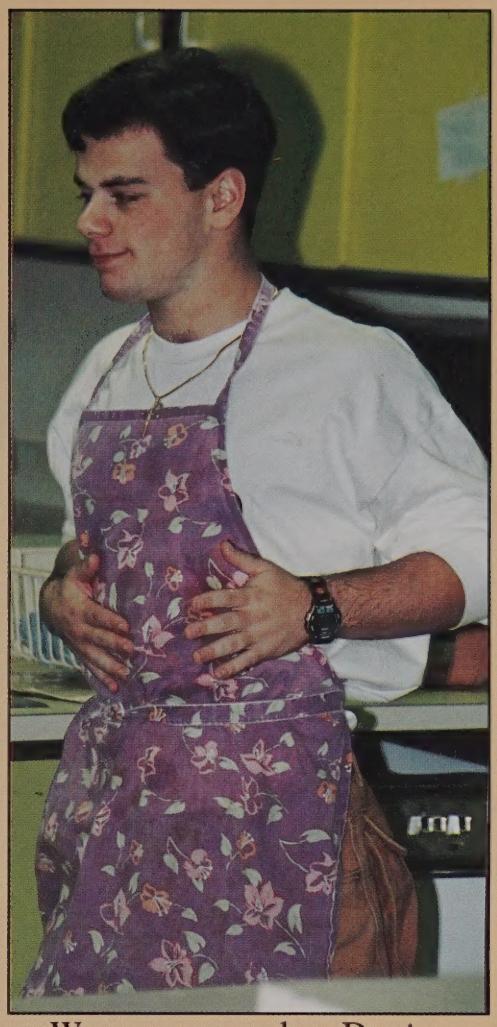
Sometimes we are a little different - Chris Nixon and his cutting edge haircut.



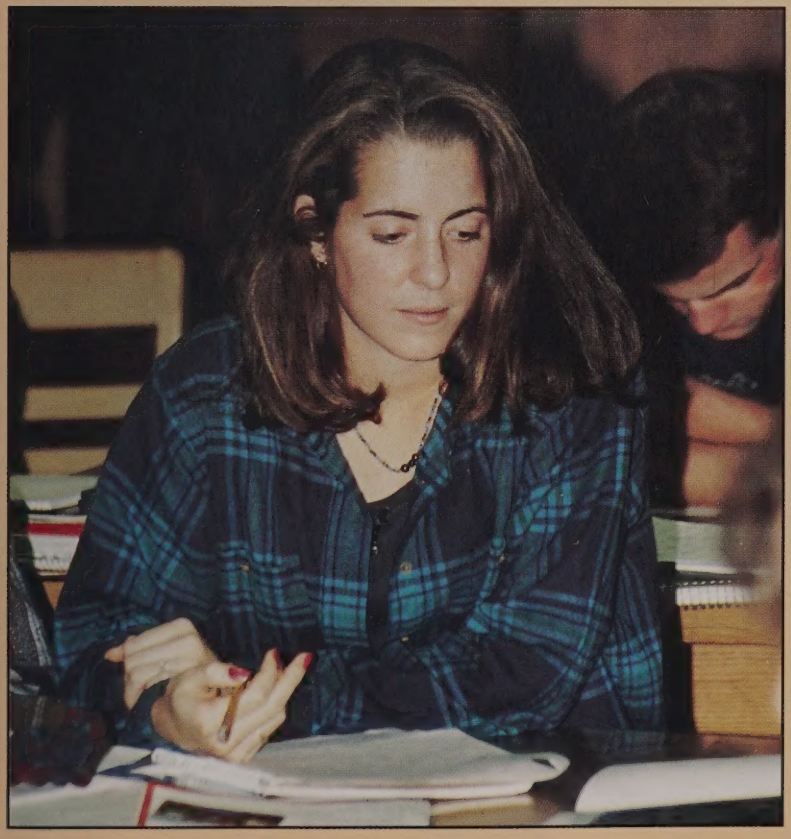
Sometimes we are a little crazy - Gia Rizzo in home economics.



We are the best by a long stretch - Meghan and Claire, two of the state's top runners.

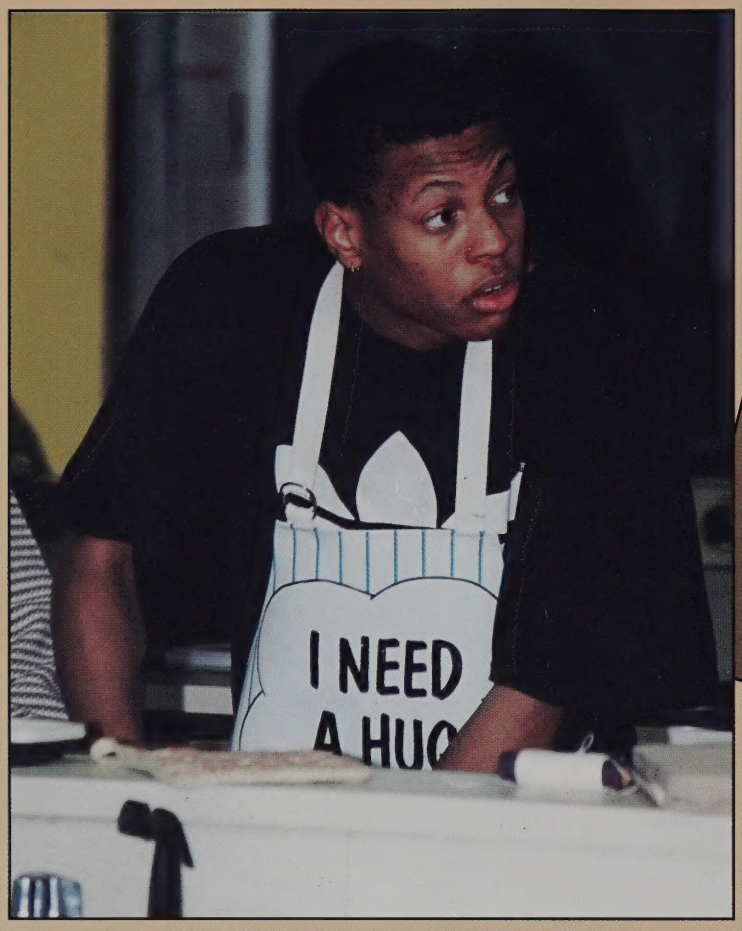


We are great cooks - Damien O'Connell says it's 'time to make the donuts.'

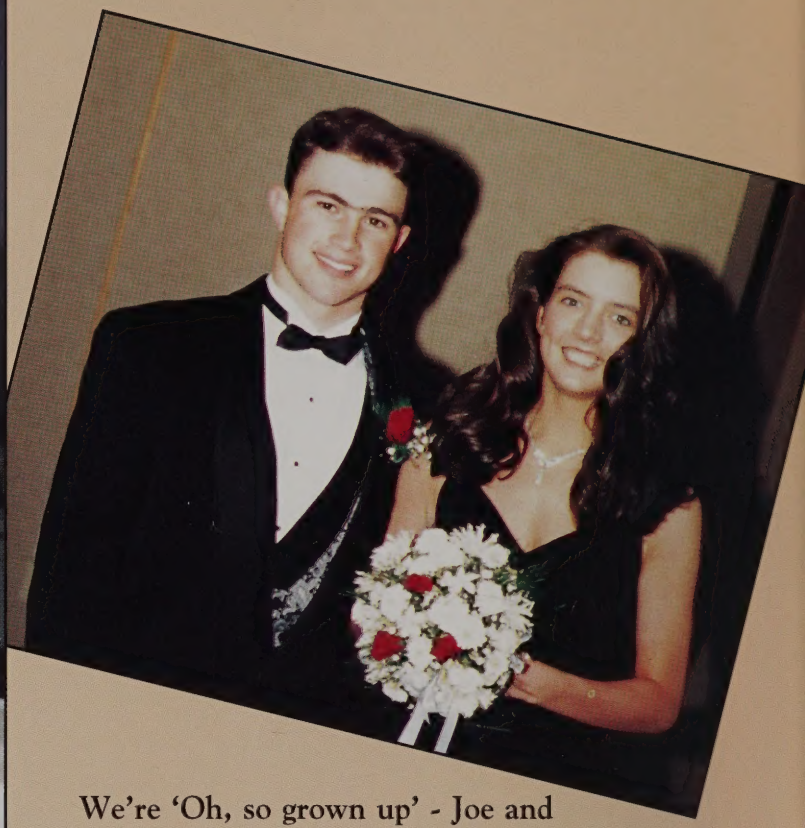


We are studious - Alissa Saunders at Ac-Dec.

We have arrived - Burkie is in the house.



Every once in a while we all need a hug - Matt Parham gets dish detail in Home Economics.



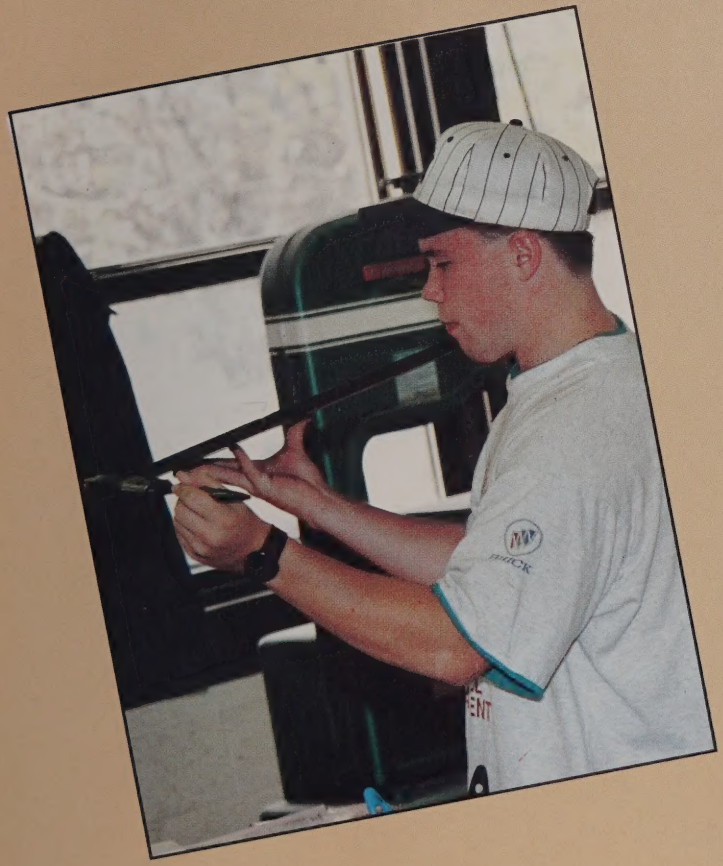
We're 'Oh, so grown up' - Joe and Kate at the prom.

And we don't look too bad in our aprons - Dan, Gary, and Ed cook up a perfect Thanksgiving bird.

We are musicians - Jen and her violin.

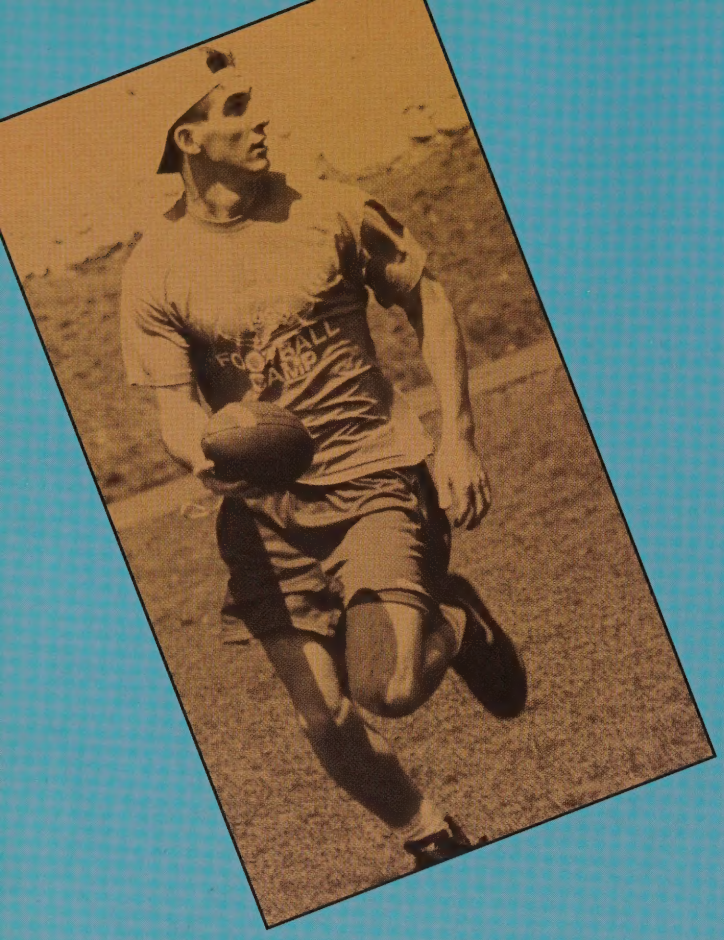
We're technicians - Kris Weldon works out the kinks in his computer project.

We're party'ers - Anje and Michelle dancin' to YMCA by the Village People.

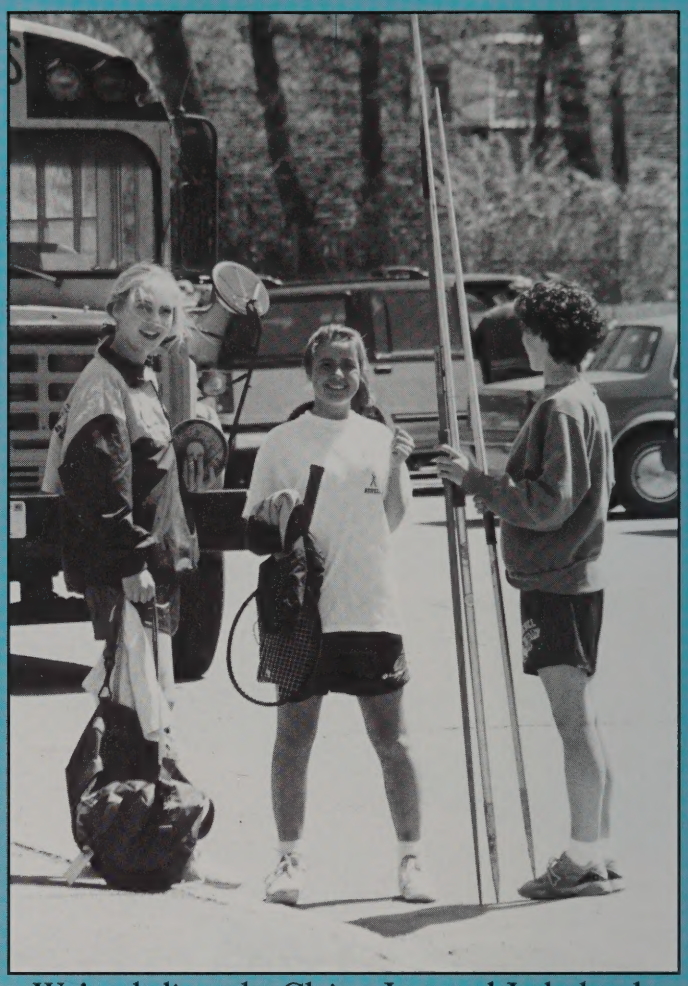


We're carpenters - J.P. puts some finishing touches on his woodwork.

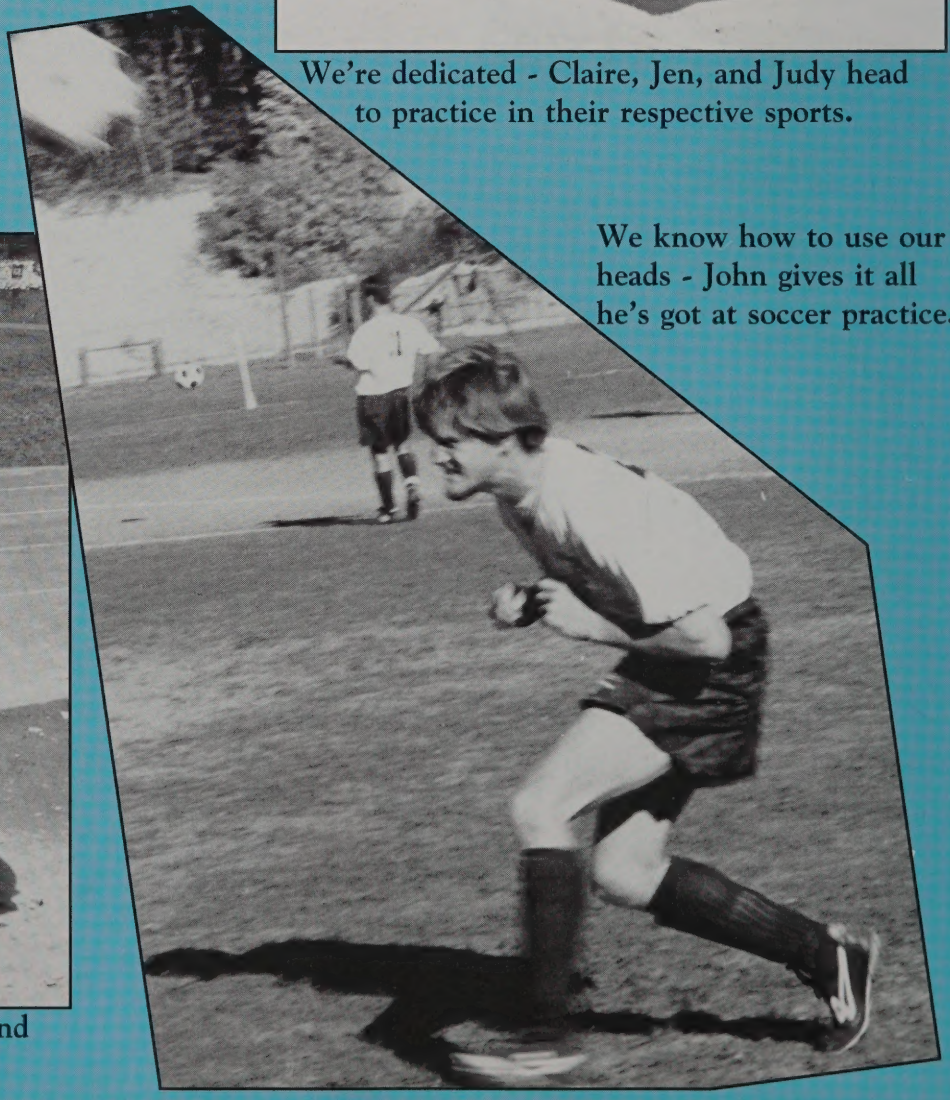
We're full of pep and love a good rally.



Sometimes we have to make a break for it - Jon cuts for a T.D. in a friendly game of 'two-hand push' football.



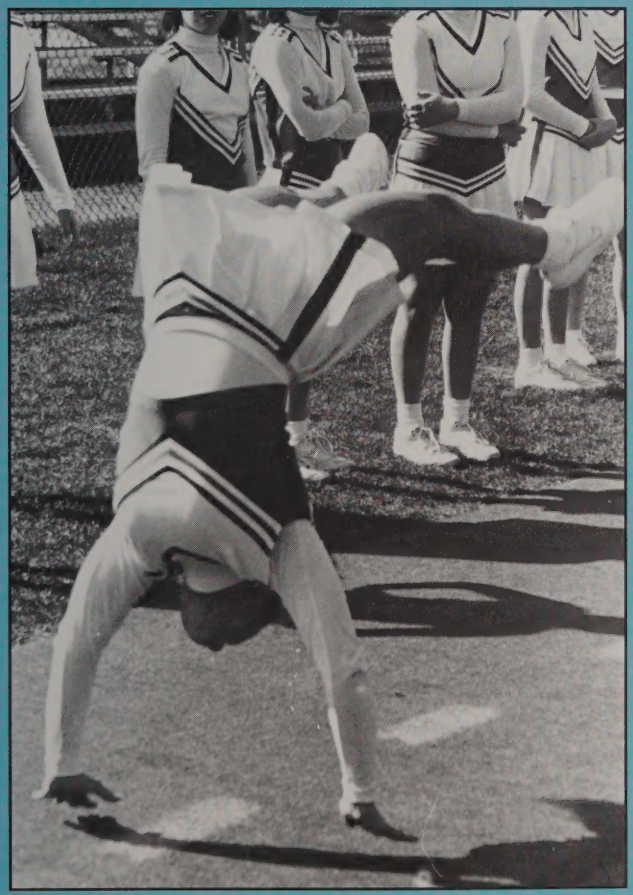
We're dedicated - Claire, Jen, and Judy head to practice in their respective sports.



We know how to use our heads - John gives it all he's got at soccer practice.

We're the best of friends - Chrissy and Jenn out at the football field.

And just maybe some of us are future Chip and Dale dancers?



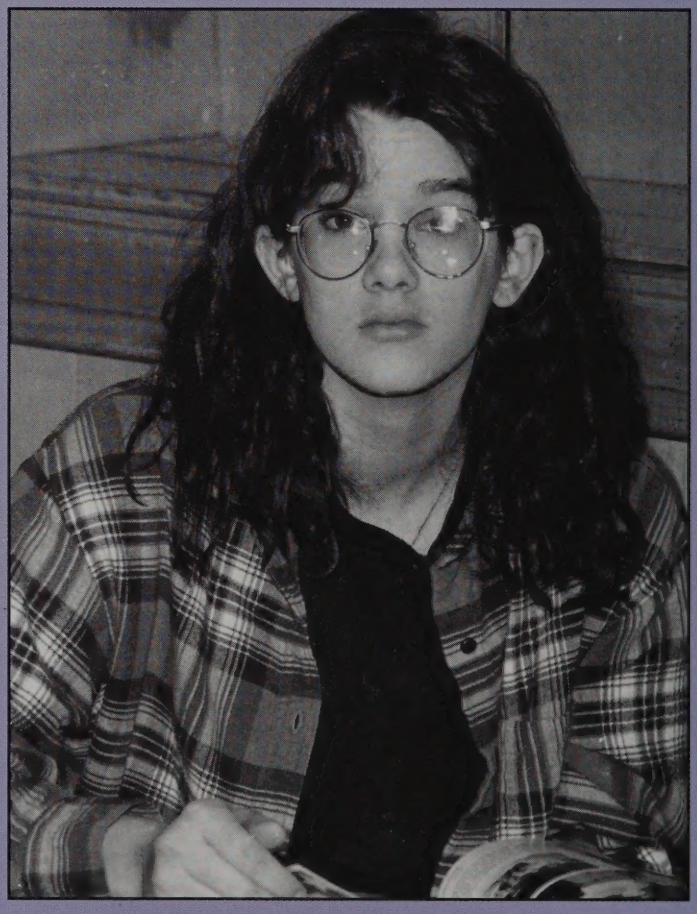
Sometimes we flip out - Channa displays her cheerleading talents.

'We are family' - Rachel and Elissa give each other a hug.

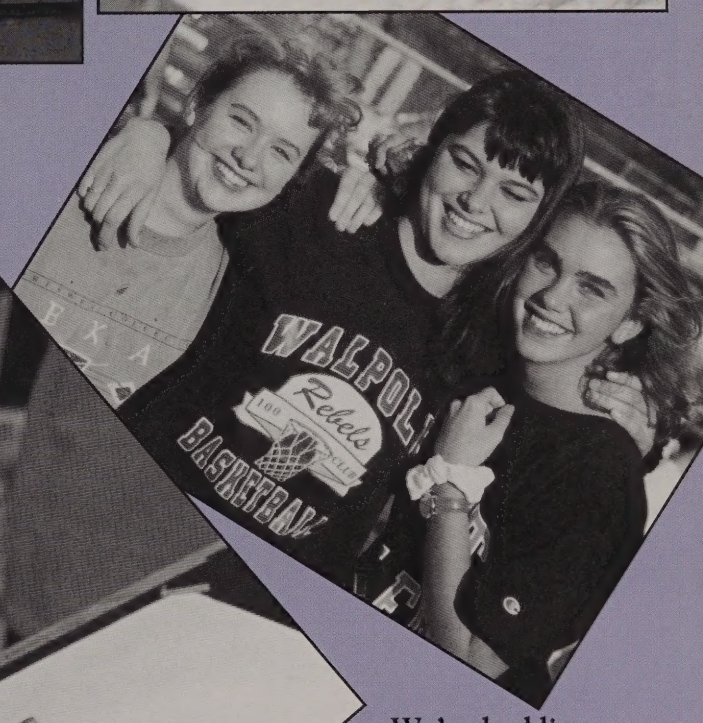
Sometimes we feel 'sure' - Carin's got dancin' fever.

Sometimes we miss a class or two and need to explain why - the chaos of call list.

We are actors and actresses - Juliann in the fall play.



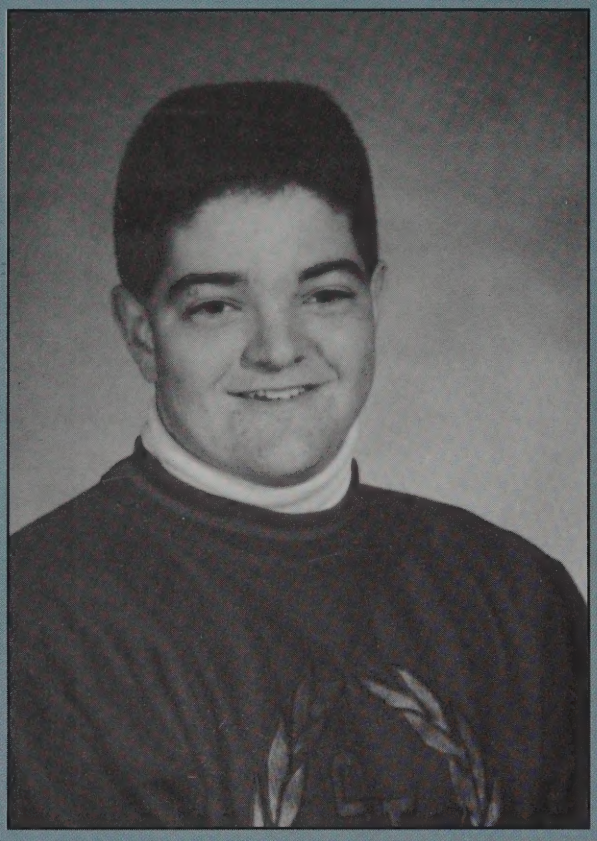
Sometimes we're surprised - Stacy is caught by the camera.



We're buddies - Kristin, Carolyn, and Alexandra.

We're artists - Jodi at the drafting table.

And sometimes we want to curl up and make everyone go away - Mike makes the big save.



David

He lived each day to the fullest
He enjoyed every part of the game.
His dream was to be a Rebel,
May we always remember his name.

- Peg Cuervels

In Loving memory of David Cuervels

The senior class has dedicated the 1995 yearbook to the memory of David Cuervels who died in a car accident February 7, 1992. Dave was a student, an athlete, a classmate, but first and foremost he was a friend. He was the kind of kid that had no enemies, and that could always make you laugh.

The football team dedicated their season to Dave. He was an athlete with tremendous promise. His great size and smarts enabled him to be a great lineman. More importantly, his sense of humor and kindheartedness enabled him to be a great person.

"Everything a Rebel stands for, Dave exemplified. He would have been proud of the way the seniors worked in honor of his memory," said Coach Chuck Grant.

Dave, you are missed and loved. Your memory will always burn strong in our hearts. Forever your grace has touched our spirits. All through our lives you will be there with us. We love you 70.

"Some people come into our lives and quietly go.
Other's leave footprints on our hearts and we are never the same."

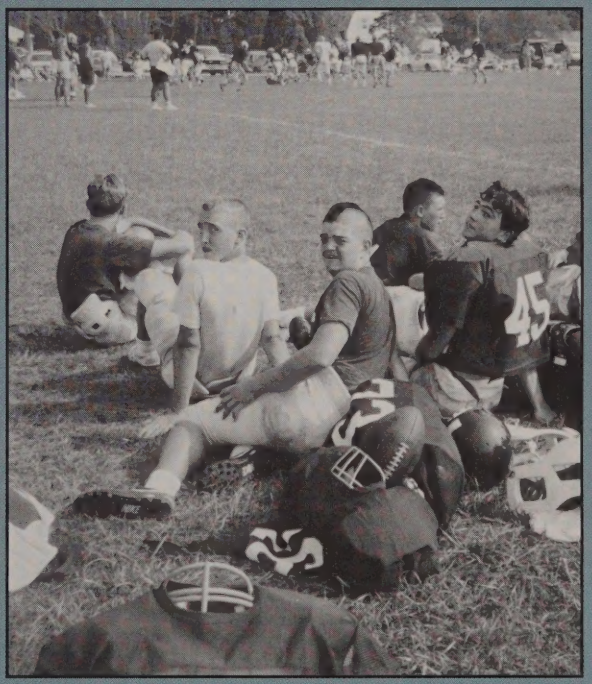
-Anonymous



Dear Dave,

Well it seems like it's been an eternity since I have talked to you. If you only knew how much we miss you and think about you. Every now and then I just sit back and forget about the world around me and think about all the times we had together. I know we only knew each other for a short time, but that short amount of time will stick with me for the rest of my life. I still remember exactly what we were talking about on the way to the game that February, how excited you were about your birthday. That is exactly how I will remember you.

Believe me when I tell you this Dave, you truly touched everyone you knew. There is no way you will ever be forgotten. You started many friendships which are still going strong. You are loved as much now as you ever have been. I will talk to you again real soon.

Love,

Dan Kurker

What We Will Miss...

There are many things that the Class of 1995 will miss about our years at WHS.

Some of us will miss the things they did here, like going to the prom, studying in the library, or playing in the big game. Other's might miss the building itself and traversing its often dimly lit and crowded hallways. Let us not forget the wonderful color scheme of the doors and walls or the interesting smells emanating from the cafeteria.

But the one thing we may all miss is our friends and the friendships that we developed at the high school. Our friends made our high school experience what it was. Whether it was the good times we had together or the stupid things we did, these moments can never be replaced. Some of our friends left us during our years at WHS, some we just haven't seen since graduation.

This is the time to remember our friends in the Class of 1995.

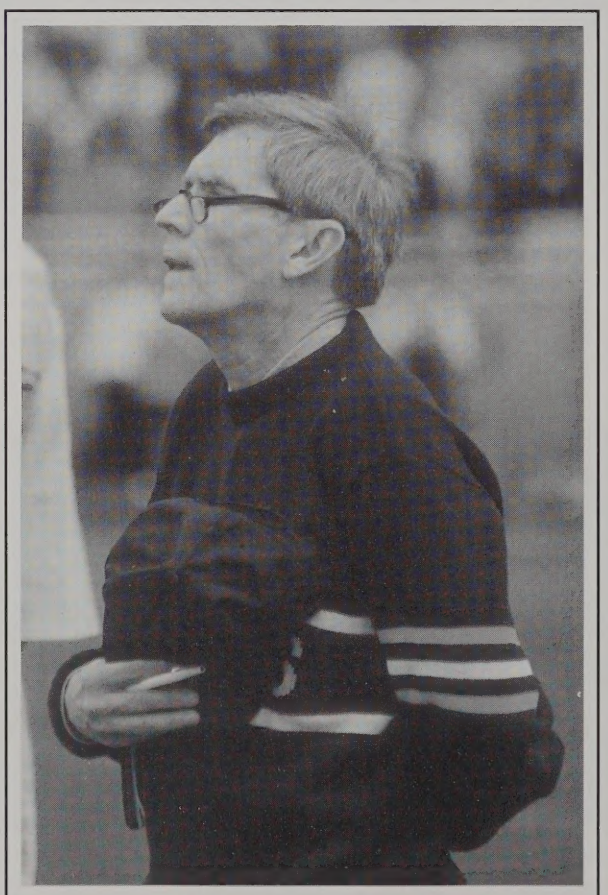
In Recognition of Our Faculty

For many of us, in many ways, the Faculty of Walpole High School have been, and will always be, an important part of our lives as students and young adults. Though it is that we, the students, may not always recognize it, the faculty have had an impact on our lives. They've been there for many of the trying as well as triumphant times. Their help and guidance, in recognition of our failures as well as our successes will never be forgotten.

Like us, the faculty and staff experience the daily trials of high school life. They feel the frustration of undone homework, half-empty classrooms, along with the struggle of getting up for those early morning classes. Their view of their job may not always be a positive one. But it just might be the case that they've made an impact on our lives. It may be one student, it may be hundreds that they've helped along the way, but knowing that they can make a difference is one of teaching's true rewards. Our teachers take pride in their work and we in turn are proud of their accomplishments.



Mr. Burch respectfully takes off his cap for the singing of the national anthem at a football game.

It is with our heartfelt gratitude for our teachers that we created a list of faculty superlatives to honor them. With the support of the faculty senate, the yearbook editorial board thought that a list of superlatives would be a great ways to show our lighthearted appreciation of the work they do. Some of the superlatives have been divided into male and female categories. Others are without regard for gender. The superlatives were voted on by the class of 1995. We thought, who else would know the teachers better than the seniors?

In the following pages we photographically feature some of the faculty that had the distinction of winning a superlative category. It is an honest glimpse of how we see them everyday, and how we view them doing what they do best - teaching!

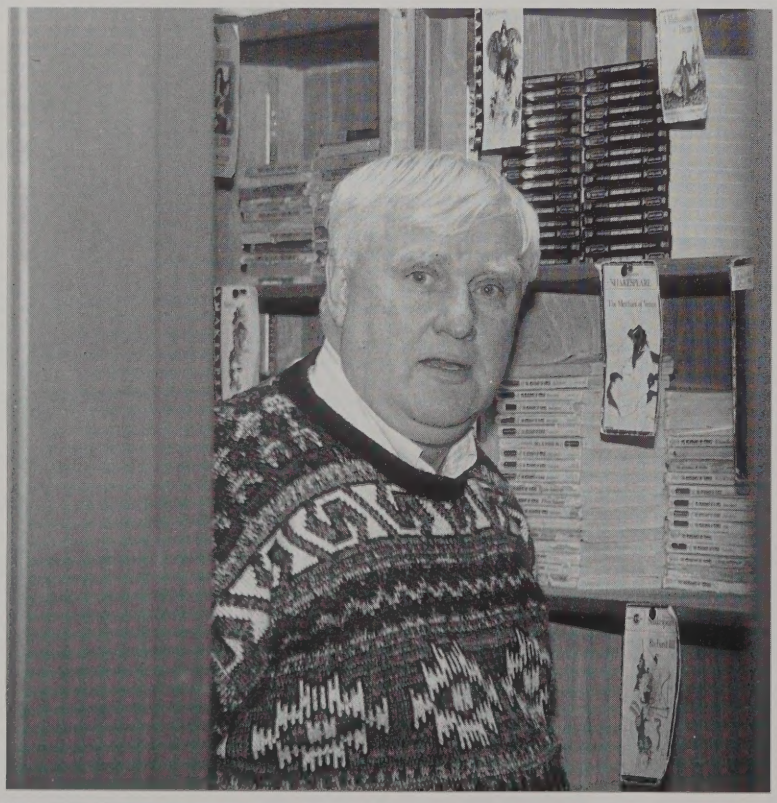
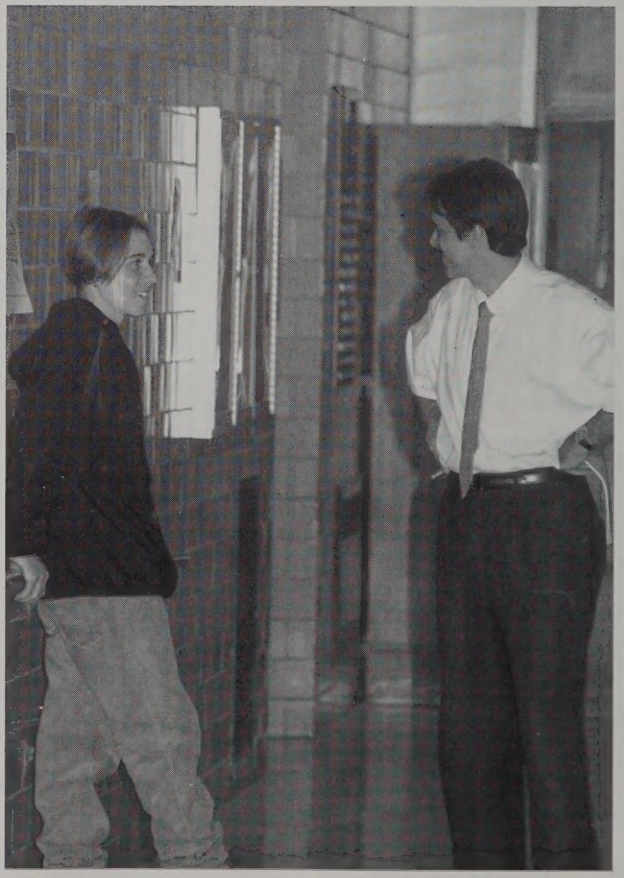
Social Studies teacher Mr. Waisgerber - named best looking, best dressed, and friendliest teacher, enough said.

English teacher Ms. Culliton, voted best looking, soaks in the fall sun at a Rebel track meet at Turco field.

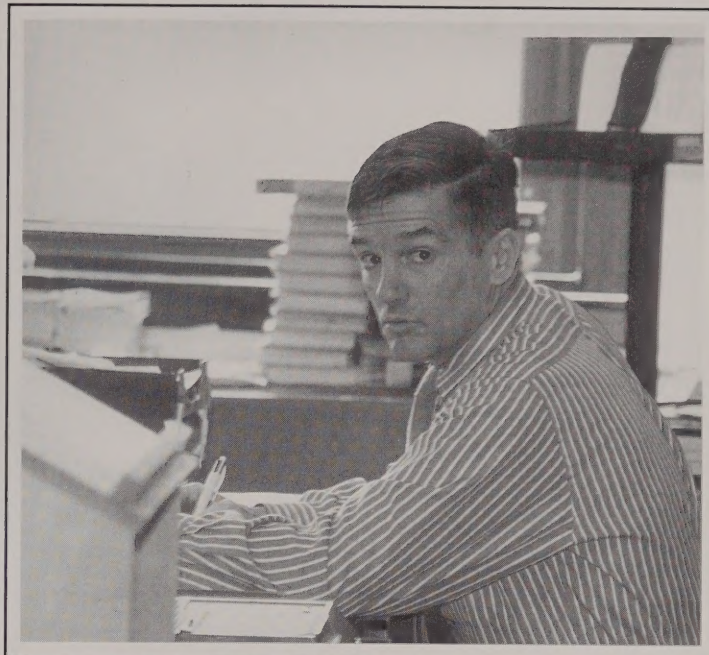


"Hark, who goes there?" asks English teacher Mr. Hull winner of the messiest handwriting category. Work on that penmanship, Mr. Hull.



"Geez, that's funny you don't look sick. How come I haven't seen you in class for weeks," asks Mr. Watson.

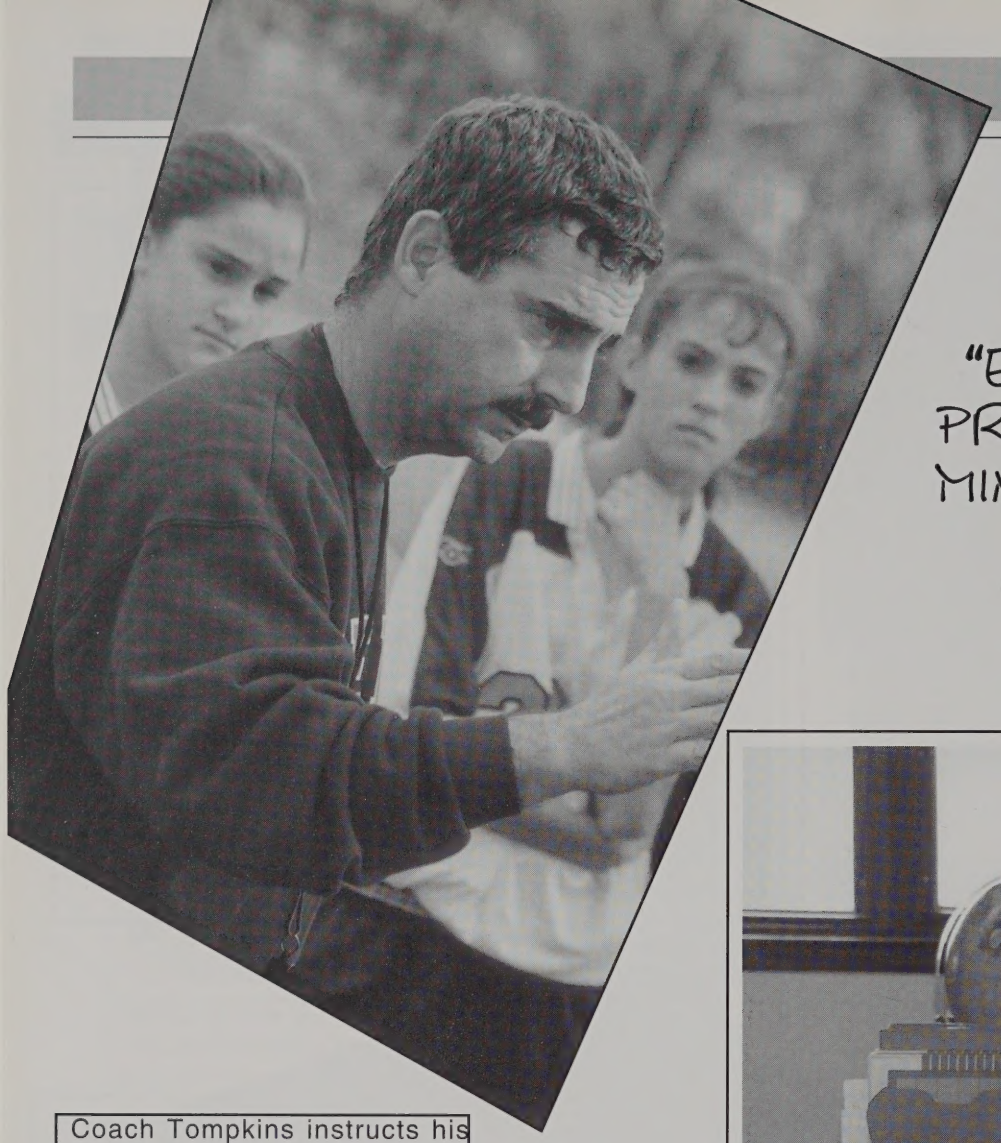
A laid back and relaxed Ms. Brainard at Turco Field.



English teacher Mr. Frost Hubbard is working on his lesson plan before his senior English honors class.

Taking her lunch break Mrs. Peck decides today is the day to start loading up on the health food.

"Geez, Mrs. Peck are you sure you want to spend this much on lunch?"

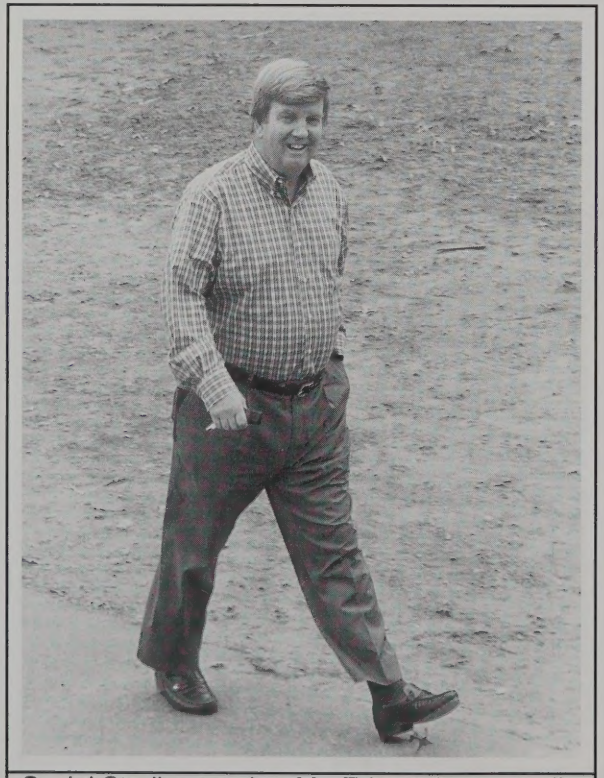


Coach Tompkins instructs his team that they should now refer to him as "Tilly Bompkins". Ha, ha.

"EDUCATION IS THE PRODUCT OF THE MINDS EFFORT."

– Herman Hornea

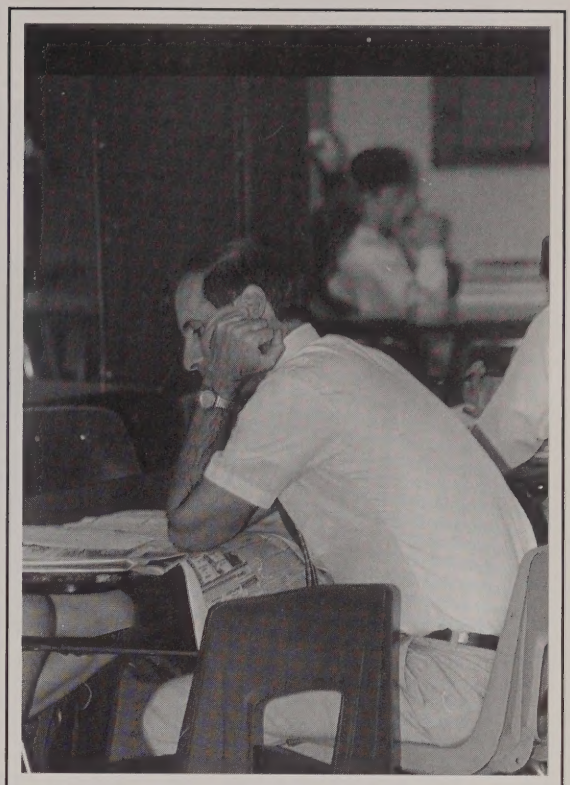
"What do you mean I was voted most likely to go off on tangents. I never go off on tangents. I always stick to the subject. Like the time I had gum stuck to my shoe. It took forever to get it off. I tried to..."



Social Studies teacher Mr. Erker takes a stroll around campus after school.

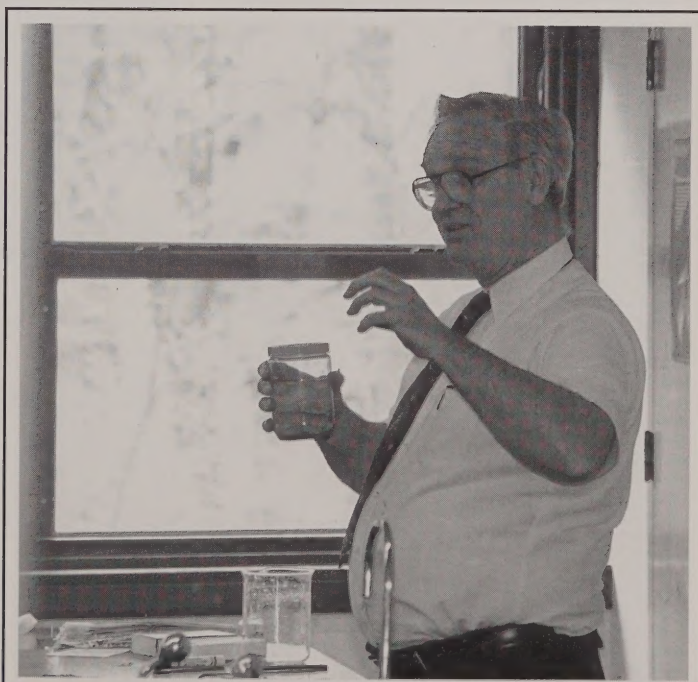
Mrs. Hudson dramatically discusses Shakespeare.

All smiles, everyone's favorite teacher Mrs. Pearson was also named as the teacher who has done the most for Walpole High School.

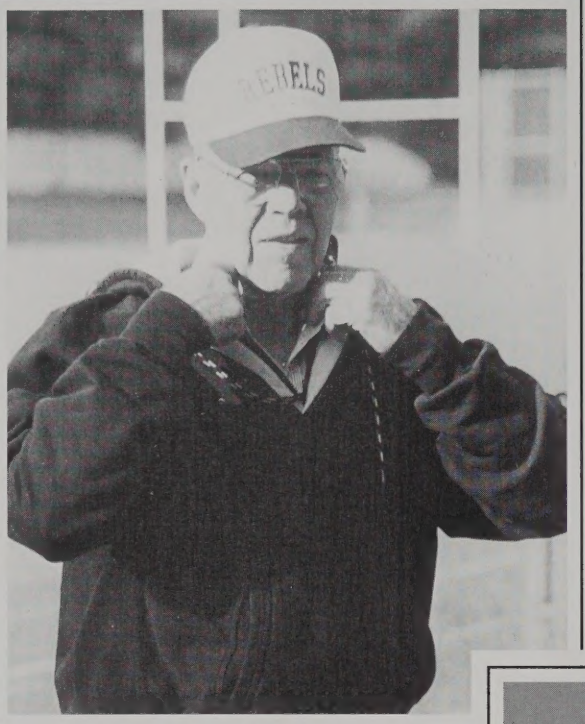


"Finally, I get a moment to look at the paper."

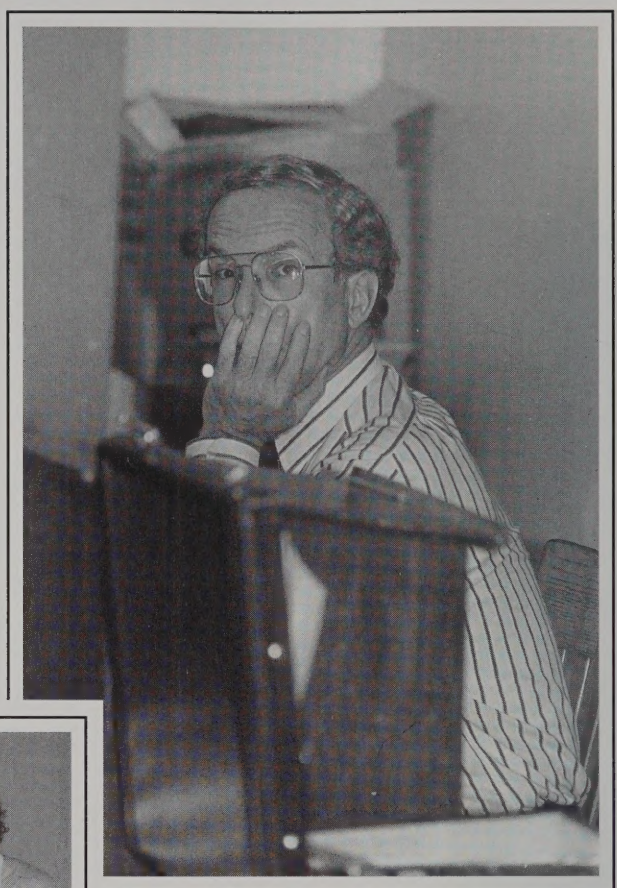
Mrs. Kunz, stunned to have been named the teacher with the messiest handwriting, administers a surprise midterm exam to those seniors who so honored her.



Mr. Brown, named the teacher with the messiest room, has just discovered a new solvent that absorbs the mess.



Cool cat coach Lee catches some rays.

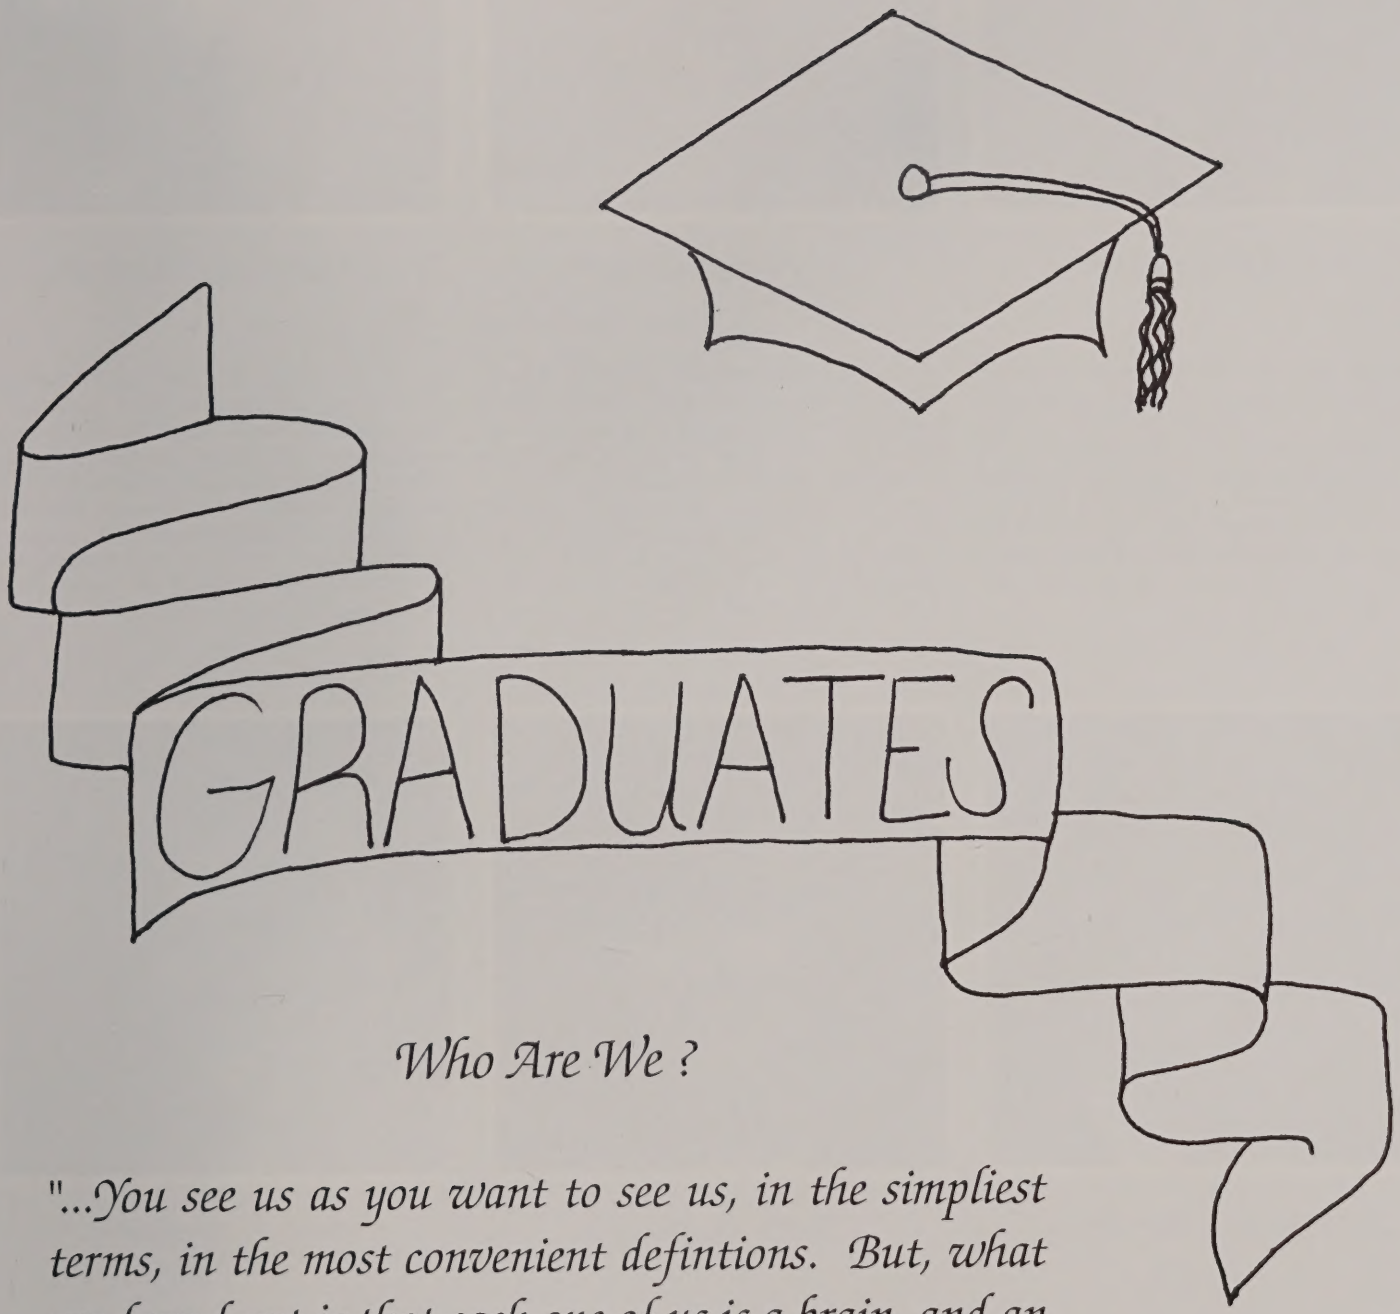


"Oh dear. Did I forget to turn the iron off before I left for school this morning."

Mr. Falker- Oh, the hair!

Mr. Joy digs through the secret files to find out who has been naughty and who has been nice.

Mr. Collins shows off his winning smile after being voted the favorite substitute teacher by the seniors.



Who Are We ?

"...You see us as you want to see us, in the simpliest terms, in the most convenient defintions. But, what we found out is that each one of us is a brain, and an athlete, and a basket-case, a princess, and a criminal. Does that answer your question?"

Latin Day

Sarah and Kelly have that Mediterranean smile.

The annual Roman Banquet took place at Walpole High School on Tuesday, May 9. Latin students dressed as ancient Romans and recreated Roman sports and entertainment.

The festivities began with a slave auction. The Latin I slaves were auctioned off to the Latin II and III nobles and gods by auctioneers Judy Collins and Alexandra Bond.

After the auction, the contest for the Best Dressed Roman was held, during which Amy Batchelder and Kenny Kneeland were judged to be Miss and Mr. Mount Olympus. The students then paraded to the football field for the Olympics.

The chariot race is down to the wire .

The highlight of the evening was, as always, the chariot race. Winning the chariot race was the chariot of Kelly Valente, Sarah Gemba and Ed Verrochi in a near photo finish.

All participants went home with a commerative T-shirt, highlighting the Roman Banquet. Once again the Roman Banquet showed that you don't have to speak a foreign language to live it. Latina vivit!

"You Care Too Much!"

Remember the rock,
where you like to sing.
Dragonfly rescue,
from your hand they'd take wing.

Headbands and ribbons,
pretty buttons and bows.
Where life was going,
nobody knows.

Hairspray and nailpolish,
the teen center that night.
Who'd steal a kiss,
when all was right.

Then came the High School,
old friends and new.
Johnson, the Bridge, and Indian Hill too.

Phone call at midnight,
and wearing "Gap" jeans.
Lessons in friendships,
and all that it means.

Heartache and laughter,
both very intense.
That somethings I know,
we'll never forget.

Now it's time to move on,
to college and such.
I'll never regret you thought
I "cared too much".

Love you Gina,
Guess Who

A MOTHER'S REFLECTIONS:
Advice to a Daughter

Be gentle.

Be kind.

Enjoy life.

Be tolerant.

Keep a sense of humour about yourself and the rest of the world.

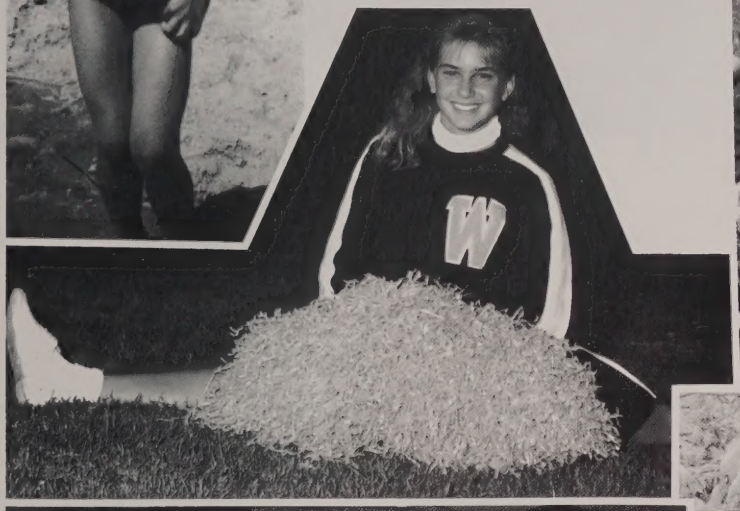
Work hard, but play hard too.

Believe in yourself.

Act on your convictions.

Be generous with your love.

Call home once a week.



CONGRATULATIONS

ALEXANDRA, WE LOVE YOU.

MOM, MIKE, MATT

BBF

Gia and Colleen were friends meant to be,
From kindergarten to high school as you can see,
From Fisher to Johnson to Seniors finally !!!

As they go their separate ways,
Their friendship will be here to stay,
We Love You, and we will miss you when you're far away.

TO NINA

You introduced us to love and happiness through the eyes of a child.
You have touched us with your thoughts, words and art.
Now you go into the world to share your gifts.
We hope your life's journey will be rich with love, happiness and joy.

Mom, Dad, and Liz

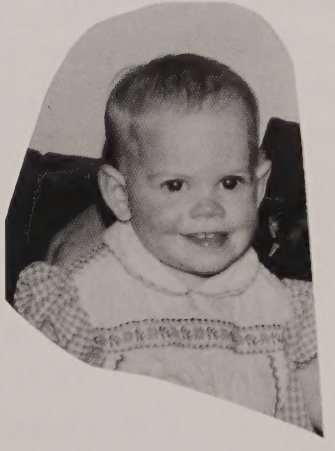
Double the pleasure. Double the fun!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Erin, since your first breath you've been changing the world and the people around you --- always beautiful, always delightful, always making our lives wonderful.

Thank you for making us so very proud of you.

We love you.
Dad, Mom, Brian (and Winnie)



Dear Laura,

You just call out my name,
And you know wherever I am,
I'll come running
To see you again...
You've got a friend.
James Taylor

Best of luck always,
Love forever,
Mom, Dad & Daniel

TAKING IT TO THE MAX .....

After many years in Walpole schools
He's finally reached the climax,
He's learned about life, friends
And much more than just plain facts.
As a young boy he had to endure
Silly nicknames like Max-the-Ax,
And because of his love of cereal
He was even dubbed Sugar Smacks.
His love of food is legendary
And he is always eating snacks,
He must stay thin by skating, running
And hiking with full backpacks.
There were times when family pressures
Made it difficult for him to relax,
Especially if we hinted that at
His school work he was lax.
But now as he heads north
Grabbing his board and his blatzwax
We wish him well at UVM across
Lake Champlain from the Adirondacks

Once she found it,
she never put it down.

Best wishes Michelle
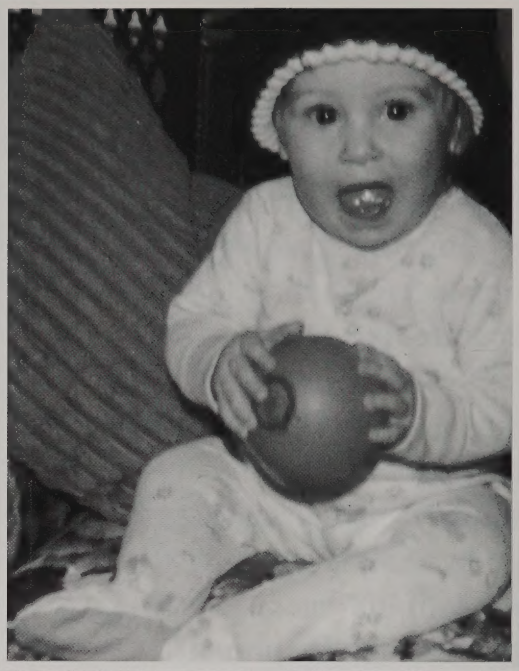
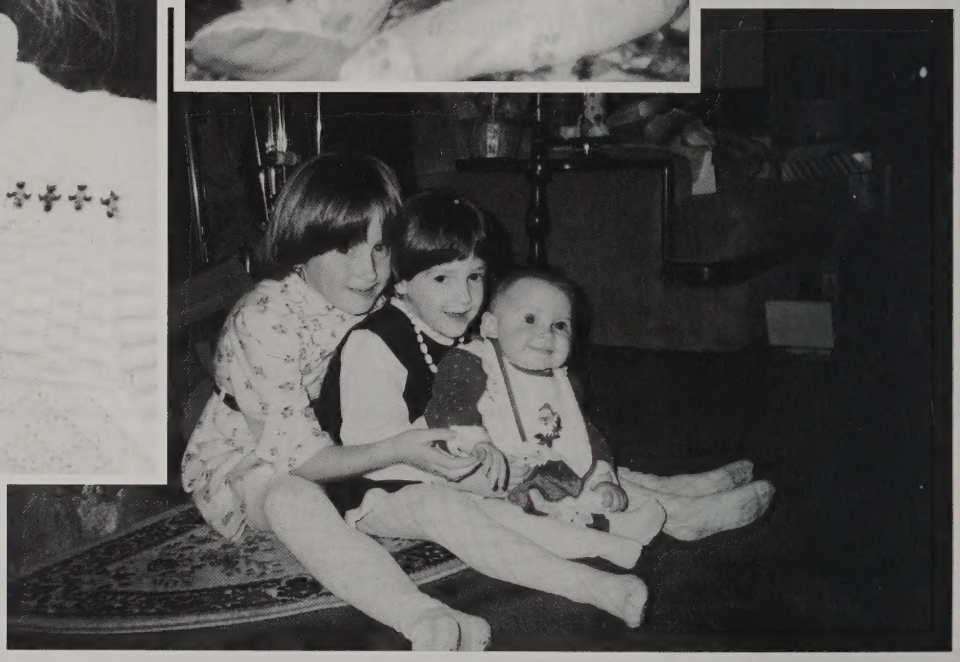
Love,
Mom, Dad & Mike

Cool !

You have cleaned your room, graduated from WHS. With your positive attitude the rest of life's journey will be a piece of cake.

Love,
Mom and Dad





Kristen,

You have been such a wonderful role model and inspiration to your sisters and to many others. We all draw an inner strength from your strong will and determination to do the right thing.

You have been through many ups and downs, and you have shown more character and strength in your young life than many people can ever hope to attain.

To us, you are a true champion. One who gets up even when you can't. For this and many other reasons we are so proud of you.

Your family wishes you continued success in your college endeavors. We all love you dearly and we will miss you very much.

Love always & forever,
Mom, Dad, Kate, Kerri

It seems like only yesterday ~ We knew you could do it !!

Love, Mum, Dad & Norah

May you always stay focused.

Know how to kick up your feet, yet keep them firmly planted.

And know what you want.

Chrissy,

We're very proud of you and the person you have become.

Love,

Dad & Mom
